Letter from TSOS President

Hi all TSOS sculptors, modelers, casters, carvers, grinders, welders and dabblers:

TSOS is coming off 3 good shows (so far in '08) and coming up on 3 great fall events – “Sculptfest” and the Photo-Shoot in September - and the “TSOS/Crossings '08 Exhibit” October - December. Lots of action here!

While we're at it, hat's off to Dar Richardson for the success of our recent Georgetown Library Exhibit. Great sculpture in a first class setting! And, congratulations to our winners! This was certainly a tough one to jury!

COMING UP (see related Newsletter Items):

Sculptfest 2008: Hope you reserved your space at Austin's sculpture showcase at the Umlauf Garden.

The AVAA/TSOS Photo Shoot at the AVAA HQ building: Professional quality photos for brochures, articles ads, exhibit entries or whatever. Sign up now!

TSOS Crossings '08 Exhibit: The Crossings is a terrific venue for good indoor and outdoor sculpture - a beautiful setting and a rich clientele. Be sure you're in this one!

THINGS TO DO (see related Newsletter Items):

Bob Brooking's Memorial: I hope you'll donate to help create Bob's Memorial. We're a third of the way there now.

Austin Art's Medallion: AVAA asked us to take the lead in the Art's Medallion design competition - and we've been woefully slow to enter into this prestigious contest. They've extended the deadline to get more entries to choose from. Where is yours?

BOARD MEETINGS (all members invited):

Wednesday, September 10, 11AM: We met at Blue Genie Art Industries, 916 Springdale Road, Building #4 in Austin, where co-owner, Dana Younger, gave us a guided tour of this remarkable operation that offers many sculptural support services and produces some of Austin's most unique 3D art. Then afterward, we lunched at El Azteca on East 7th.

Wednesday, October 8, 11AM – We will meet at The Crossings (see Call-for-Entry map) to view our fall show, hear about The Crossings' informal sculpture opportunities, and enjoy a lunch in their cafeteria.

Best sculptural regards and looking forward to seeing you in September,

Bob Coffee

TSOS to Exhibit at “The Crossings”

“The Crossings” will host a TSOS Sculpture show on the grounds and in their spa and retreat center during the fall of 2008. This beautiful setting in the hills above Lake Travis is a prime and busy destination for corporate retreats, get-togethers and conferences. It's a gorgeous spot!

30 TSOS sculptors work will be represented with over 100 pieces of art on exhibit. This juried show will run from October 1st through December 14, 2008.

A potluck reception with cash bar will be held November 22nd from 4 to 8 PM. You won't want to miss this reception and you will want to encourage all your friends to attend, as the atmosphere on the grounds of The Crossings is awesome. AVAA President, Bill Keese will be the awards juror and several nice prizes will be awarded.

The address of the Crossings is 13500 FM 2769 in Austin. For more information contact show coordinator Michael Epps at 512-970-0642. For map and driving directions see www.thecrossingsaustin.com/about/contact.php#driving

Coffee's Bird on "Necker" of "Peregrine Hill" Wine

St Genevieve Winery's "Peregrine Hill" wines have a "Necker" (a loose label that fits over the bottle's neck) that features "The Prize", a peregrine falcon bronze by Bob Coffee.

The "Necker" is a coupon that a purchaser may send to the winery for a chance to win one of 3 of Coffee's falcon bronzes that St Genevieve raffles off each year.

Austin Visual Arts Awards

The Austin Visual Arts Association has booked the Blanton Museum of Art on Saturday, December 6th, 2008, for its first Austin Visual Arts Awards Banquet. With $2,000 tables, open bar, valet parking, continuous entertainment, speakers and awards in all media categories, this "Gala" promises to become a big yearly event for the visual arts of our city.

Five final designs for the Arts Medallion will have been selected by the AVAA Board. The winning design will have be selected by a panel of three artists/art dealers and unveiled at the Banquet. All five finalists will receive cash awards.

TSOS to Nominate Candidates for 3D Category

TSOS has been asked to nominate candidates in the Austin Visual Arts Awards 3D categories. This will include sculpture, jewelry and installation art.

Nominating criteria and nominee submission requirements will be discussed at the September TSOS Board Meeting. More information and deadline dates will then be forthcoming.

September 26th & 27th Photo Shoot times are filling up . . .

... but a time may still be available

The Photo Shoot by Houston art photographer, Rick Wells, is less than one half booked as of July 1st. Wells works an hour with each artist. He produces and sends you quality photos, slides and/ or CDs at very reasonable rates. Professional photos are required for all major sculpture competitions or exhibits. So, sign up now! To reserve a time call Bob Coffee (512) 423-5261(c) or Kelli Montgomery (AVAA) at (512) 512-922-3104. The Shoot will be at AVAA's Office Building on Home Lane.

Detail of Balancing Girl, life sized Bronze sculpture by Cindy Debold, as it looked on exhibit at "The Crossings", Austin, TX. summer 2008

Cindy Debold at "The Crossings" & Loveland Co.'s "Art in the Park"

TSOS member Cindy Debold exhibited her sculpture in Loveland, Colorado's "Art in the Park" juried show August, '08. Cindy was selected to exhibit with 80 other sculptors from around the nation for this prestigious annual event.

Cindy's sculpture along with 30 of her new paintings were on exhibit this July and August at The Crossings - the site of TSOS's Fall juried exhibit. Many TSOS members attended her July 26th Opening Reception. Way to go Cindy!

Absolute Geometries New 3D Scanning Service

Shown below is the "mesh file" from the scan of the sculpture pictured at the left.

Absolute Geometries, a new

3D Scanning Service Bureau has opened in Pflugerville, Texas offering scanning services for Reverse Engineering and Computer-aided Inspection.

3D Scanning is the process of obtaining digital shape information of a geometry with non contact imaging systems. This process creates what is known as "point cloud" data that can be used for many purposes. Scanners can capture thousands of points within seconds. If an object is too large to scan in one take, the scan data can be joined together with special processing software as long as each scan contains at least some of the adjacent data.

3D Scanning has often been used in the Sculpture industry to either digitally document sculptures or to create CAD files to be used in producing tooling for mass production. The scanned data can be scaled or manipulated on the computer before being used. For example, an exact mirror copy of the sculpture could be created in CAD or the sculpture could be stretched in any direction.

For more information, visit www.absolutegeometries.com or call Mike Durham at 512-990-7226.

Atelier 3-D Short Course Offerings

WIRED LINES IN SPACE:

(3-hour short course, Cost: $45)

Using easily manipulated materials, create a wire sculpture that reflects your own personal expression. This class opens possibilities for making wire sculpture anywhere, at anytime, using almost anything. Students will experience binding, twisting and shaping wire in order to develop sculptural ideas that can be translated into larger pieces or transformed into other materials. Each student will complete a finished wire sculpture mounted on a base. All tools are provided. Please bring $5 for materials.

September 20th, 2pm – 5pm, or
September 27th, 10am – 1pm, or
December 6th, 10am – 1pm, or
December 20th, 2pm – 5pm

PLASTER FACE CASTS:

(3-hour short course, Cost: $45)

Bring a friend as a partner, or team up with another student for this exciting and informative course. Each student will make a cast of his/her partner's face with plaster gauze, creating realistic wall-hung sculptures. Please wear old clothing and bring a head band and/or hair-tie— you will get messy! Please bring $10 for handouts and plaster. All tools and additional materials are provided.

October 4th, 2pm – 5pm, or
November 8th, 2pm – 5pm, or
November 15th, 10am – 1pm

ALGINATE HAND CASTING:

(3-hour short course, Cost: $45)

This fun and user-friendly class is an excellent opportunity to learn the use of alginate— a soft and very safe molding material. Each participant will make an alginate mold of his/her own hand, and then cast the mold in hydrocal. Finished products will be exact replicas of participants' hands, down to the smallest detail. Wear old clothing and be prepared to laugh. All tools and materials are provided. Please bring $5 for handouts. Take-home alginate and hydrocal may be available for an additional charge.

September 27th, 2pm – 5pm, or
October 4th, 10am – 1pm, or
November 8th, 10am – 1pm, or
November 15th, 2pm – 5pm, or
December 6th, 2pm – 5pm

For more information, contact Atelier3-D at:

(512) 385-1115 or steve@atelier3-d.com
Web site: www.Atelier3-D.com

HANDS IN CLAY:

3-hour short course, Cost: $45

Learn the fundamentals of the ancient (but very modern) art of ceramic sculpting: slap, push, press and squeeze! In this very hands-on class, each student will learn the basics of clay-bodies, ceramic tools and kilns while sculpting the subject matter of their own choice. Working with water-based clay, using slabs and coils, each student will create at least one ceramic sculpture. Clay and all tools are provided. Please bring $5 for hand-outs. Firing is available for a small fee.

October 25th, 2pm – 5pm, or
November 1st, 10am – 1pm, or
December 13th, 2pm – 5pm, or
December 20th, 10am – 1pm

MAKE-A-MOBILE:

(6-hour short course, Cost: $90)

This workshop is a real balancing act! Learn to create your own mobile or wind-chime that glides and swings and dances in the slightest breeze. Using easily manipulated materials (aluminum, copper and plastic,) allow your creative powers to soar during this one-day workshop. Each student will complete one colorful mobile suitable to hang inside or out. Come prepared to have a great day with coffee, tea and donuts, and a lunch break from 1-2pm. Tools provided. Please bring $5 for materials.

September 13th, 10am – 5pm, or
October 18th, 10am – 5pm

MAKING BASIC MOLDS:

3-hour short course, Cost: $45

Learn simple techniques for making one-piece molds with plaster of Paris. Beginning with water-based clay, each student will create a decorative bas relief sculpture to be molded in plaster. Once the plaster hardens, students will use their molds to generate multiple reproductions in clay. These reproductions can be used separately or bonded together to create larger ceramic sculptures. Wear old clothing because you will get messy. Clay, tools and most supplies will be provided. Please bring $5 for plaster.

September 20th, 10am – 1pm, or
October 25th, 10am – 1pm, or
November 1st, 2pm – 5pm, or
December 13th, 10am – 1pm

KILN FIRING & MATERIALS:

Firings: $60 for full kiln, $35 for half kiln & $10- $15 per piece. Clay: $25 per 50# box. Glaze: $15 per pint. Plaster: $20 per 50# bag. Alginate: $15 per lb. Investment Wax: $7 per pound. 60 Grit Sand: $10 per 50# bag.

Detail of latest installation at "Trudy's Mexican Restaurant and Bar" in Austin TX. Hook 'Em Horns!, foam board and mixed media sculpture by Marla Ripperda

Hook 'Em Horns!

Marla Ripperda just finished a mixed media installation at Trudy's Mexican Restaurant and Bar in Austin. The setup is a 6' tall UT Tower, with tailgate on south end facing the bar and cheerleading stuff on the north. She is grateful to Steve Dubov and Atelier3-D Studio, where she learned to deal with foam board while attending Sculpture 101 and 201 classes.

A Memorial for Bob Brooking

The Umlauf Sculpture Garden & Museum is planning to dedicate a special bench in Bob's honor in their sculpture garden – a place where Bob spent many hours as an Umlauf Docent. The bench cost, $1500, is to be raised by contributions from Bob's friends. If you'd like to help with this memorial please send a donation in any amount to Leo Eckroth, TSOS Treasurer, P O Box 49291, Austin, TX 78765-9291.

Cattlemen for Cancer Research

My name is Lisa Patton and I volunteer with a group called Cattlemen for Cancer Research. We are based out of the Michale E. Keeling Center in Bastrop, Texas which is part of the UT M. D. Anderson Cancer Center.

Each year in October our committee of volunteers hold a benefit auction to raise funds for cancer research. On October 4, 2008, the 10th annual Cattlemen for Cancer Research Auction will once again be hosted by Dr. Charles Graham at the Hill Prairie Livestock Auction Company in Bastrop, Texas.

Although we do draw a loyal crowd of the locals, we also have people from across the state that attend our event each year. In the past nine years Cattlemen for Cancer Research has been able to raise more than $760,000 to fund various research projects.

We are currently seeking donations for our silent auction. The main two activities at our event are the silent auction and the cattle auction. The silent auction can have just about anything you can imagine - furniture, jewelry, collectibles, food items, guided hunts, passes to various attractions across the state and the list goes on. We also have activities for the kids, a general store and the Dripping Springs Lions Club cooks a free meal for all of our guests that attend the auction.

If you are able to make a donation you are automatically included on our invitation list to attend the event and you are welcome to bring your whole family and/or friends that would like to attend. Just include them on your RSVP so we will have an approximate idea of how many meals we need to prepare. Even if you cannot donate to this year's auction we would like to invite you to attend. Just email me your name and address and we will be more than happy to include you on our invitation list.

If you would like to receive more information about Cattlemen for Cancer Research, you can visit our website or I have a printed brochure I can mail to you. You are welcome to contact me by mail, email or phone.

Thank You,

Lisa Patton

Atascosa National Wildlife Refuge

I'm with the Laguna Atascosa National Wildlife Refuge near Brownsville, Texas. Our primary, the nonprofit Friends of Laguna Atascosa National Wildlife Refuge, has established an Ocelot Fund to try and save the endangered ocelot, a beautiful endangered wild cat found only in Texas in the United States (see photo).

Fewer than 100 of these cats are left in the U.S. and they are disappearing fast. The Friends and the Refuge also host an annual Ocelot Conservation Festival each February in Harlingen, Texas. The proceeds from the event go to the Ocelot Fund and are used for ocelot conservation.

I was wondering if any of the artists who belong to TSOS would be interested in helping ocelot conservation by donating artwork to the Friends? All proceeds would be used for ocelot conservation. If anyone is interested, they can contact me at JMocelot@juno.com, phone 956-748-3607. I would really appreciate any help you might be able to provide in getting the word out to any interested artists.

Thank you so much.

Green & Yellow Lizard, Metal and Mosaic sculpture by Augusto Brocca,
 1st Place Winner at TSOS Summer 2008 Exhibit at the Georgetown, TX Library

TSOS Summer Exhibit at the Georgetown Library

Based on public response, the Georgetown Library/TSOS show was well received. The Library received numerous comments about the variety of style and media of the sculptures. By popular demand the show was extended two weeks.

Twenty eight sculptors provided seventy two sculpture works. Certainly, TSOS sculptors are in the minds of Georgetown and surrounding communities.

The opening reception was well attended. The show's jurors, Eric Lashley, Ruth Roberts and Don Snell presented the awards. Augusto Brocca, 1st place; Ken Burns, 2nd place; Dar Richardson, 3rd place. With honorable mentions to Mary Morse, Hank Waddell, Chris Robbins and Tom Bishop.

The Georgetown Library has invited TSOS to hold another exhibit next year. – summer 2009.
